The Melton D. & Muriel Haney
Interprofessional Conference
Compassionate Care at the End of Life

Saturday, November 9, 2013
8:45 AM – 5:30 PM

UVA School of Nursing
McLeod Hall, Charlottesville, VA

sponsored by the

Office of Continuing Medical Education
of the University of Virginia School of Medicine

Program Description

This symposium will bring together various health professionals who share interest in relieving suffering and providing compassionate care to individuals and families at the end of life. Plenary and breakout sessions will be evidence-based, innovative and inspiring. A reception will immediately follow to foster networking.

Goals and Objectives

Following this symposium, participants will be better able to:

- Discuss why effective communication with colleagues, patients, families in end-of-life settings is essential for compassionate care
- Identify interprofessional teamwork essentials for compassionate end-of-life care
- Recognize risk factors and early symptoms of vicarious trauma and burnout in end-of-life caregivers and develop effective treatment plans for them

Location

The symposium will be held at the University of Virginia School of Nursing's McLeod Hall, 202 Lancaster Way, Charlottesville, VA. Free parking is available in the McLeod Parking Garage.

Disclosure of Faculty Financial Affiliations

The University of Virginia School of Medicine, as an ACCME accredited provider, endorses and strives to comply with the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) Standards of Commercial Support, Commonwealth of Virginia statutes, University of Virginia policies and procedures, and associated federal and private regulations and guidelines on the need for disclosure and monitoring of proprietary and financial interests that may affect the scientific integrity and balance of content delivered in continuing medical education activities under our auspices.

The University of Virginia School of Medicine requires that all CME activities accredited through this institution be developed independently and be scientifically rigorous, balanced and objective in the presentation/discussion of its content, theories and practices.

All faculty presenters participating in an accredited CME activity are expected to disclose relevant financial relationships with commercial entities occurring within the past 12 months (such as grants or research support, employee, consultant, stock holder, member of speakers bureau, etc.). The University of Virginia School of Medicine will employ appropriate mechanisms to resolve potential conflicts of interest to maintain the standards of fair and balanced education to the participant. Questions about specific strategies can be directed to the Office of Continuing Medical Education, University of Virginia School of Medicine, Charlottesville, Virginia.

The faculty and staff of the University of Virginia Office of Continuing Medical Education have no financial affiliations to disclose.

Disclosure of Discussion of Non-FDA Approved Uses for Pharmaceutical Products and/or Medical Devices

The University of Virginia School of Medicine, as an ACCME provider, requires that all faculty presenters identify and disclose any off-label uses for pharmaceutical and medical device products. The University of Virginia School of Medicine recommends that each physician fully review all the available data on new products or procedures prior to clinical use.

Attendance and Certificate Distribution

The University of Virginia Office of Continuing Medical Education requires that all participants at live CME activities sign attendance sheets daily to confirm participation in the CME activity for that day. Participants are responsible for accurately tracking their actual participation at live events.
